A closer look at the Hennes Bay Copper-Silver project

With a number of exploration activities carried out at Hennes Bay during 2025 and early 2026, significantly advancing the project and confirming our geological interpretation of the area, we are glad to present a closer look at the project through a short film.

The video provides an extensive overview, explaining the geological setting, exploration focus and overall project potential at the Hennes Bay project, and serves as an informative and easily accessible introduction for both new and existing stakeholders.

The video can be found on Arctic Minerals' media website or via the following link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dm9gjCp8eVM>

Additional context is also provided in Aktiespararna's Initial Coverage Analysis, published February 2026, here.
