FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE / 23 June 2022

Infoland partners with Frontwalker

Dutch software vendor and Swedish IT consulting firm strengthen each other's operations.

Gothenburg, Sweden. Infoland and Frontwalker today announced that the companies have entered into a strategic partnership in which they will strengthen each other in terms of smart software and IT consultancy services. For Infoland, this means broadening its international operations to Sweden, while for Frontwalker, it means expanding its offering with software for optimising and digitising business processes. Infoland is an established software vendor with offices in The Netherlands and Belgium that develops standard but highly configurable software. Software that is used every day by over 1.6 million individuals in industries such as healthcare, logistics, manufacturing and the maritime sector. Frontwalker is an IT consulting firm that designs, implements and delivers strategic and business-critical IT projects.

"We are two IT companies committed to solving digital challenges. I truly believe that through this partnership, we can support Swedish customers and make their work easier." according to Marieke Kessels – Habraken, CEO of Infoland. "Joint customers will now be able to take advantage of the strong technical capabilities of both companies and their ability to solve challenges at the intersection of business and IT.", she continues.

"We found each other in striving for long-term relationships with our customers. I am looking forward to our joint initiatives intended to create added customer value continuously." said Nicklas Raask, President & CEO of Frontwalker.

About Infoland
