

Seamless Distribution Systems AB (publ) achieves SEK 66 million in savings from its optimization program

Seamless Distribution Systems AB (publ) (SDS) announces the successful completion of its comprehensive efficiency program, delivering annual savings of SEK 66 million. This outcome substantially exceeds the initial projection of SEK 35-40 million and reflects the company's continued focus on operational excellence and financial discipline.

Of the total savings, SEK 44 million has already been implemented, while an additional SEK 22 million has been identified and will be executed during the third quarter of 2025. These measures will be fully reflected in SDS's financial results from January 1, 2026. The optimization program underscores SDS's commitment to strengthening profitability, improving cash flow, and driving long-term shareholder value.

SDS is continuously enhancing its operating model to ensure higher levels of effectiveness and productivity. By adopting new ways of working and leveraging AI-driven tools and processes, the company is building a more agile, efficient, and innovative organization. These advancements will enable SDS to deliver greater value to customers and partners while maintaining a sharp focus on sustainable growth.

Comment from the CEO

"This marks a decisive step toward building a leaner, stronger, and AI-powered SDS," said Martin Schedin, CEO of Seamless Distribution Systems. "With these efficiency measures in place, the company will cover all operating costs, including interest on the bond. By combining cost efficiency with smarter ways of working, we are positioning the company to create sustainable profitability and long-term value for our shareholders, customers, and partners."
