EYEON GROUP AB (publ): Real-Time Monitoring Following the SportsAdmin Breach

EyeonGroup has directed its developers to locate the data breach that impacted SportsAdmin late last week. These types of breaches are often published on the dark web when data is stolen, making it crucial to identify them quickly.

"It's important for us to promptly locate and import breaches into our database as they occur. Our customers pay us to notify them as quickly as possible about what has been leaked and when, so they can swiftly take action and manage their stolen information," says Fredrik Björklund, CEO of Eyeon Group AB.

Eyeon Group offers a comprehensive service to both private individuals and businesses through resellers, which places high demands on Eyeon to quickly identify and report these incidents to their partners and their end customers. As a result, additional resources have now been allocated to real-time monitoring of the dark web to locate the breach and upload the data to the portal.
