

Wyld's share commences trading on the OTCQB market in the United States

Wyld shares begin trading today on the OTCQB Venture Market in the U.S. under the symbol "WYLD". Joining the OTCQB Venture Market allows over-the-counter trading in Wyld's ordinary share listed on the Nasdaq First North Growth Market. The purpose is to increase visibility and accessibility in the US capital market thereby providing greater liquidity and value to the company's shareholders.

Joining the OTCQB Venture Market will facilitate US investors to trade in Wyld Networks' ordinary share in US dollars, with a US ticker symbol, and during US market hours.

Wyld Networks' share remains listed – and will continue to trade – on the Nasdaq First North Growth Market and no new ordinary shares will be issued as part of the process. Joining the OTCQB Venture Market will allow easier trading access for US investors, which the company believes will increase liquidity and turnover in the share as well as the possibility to broaden the shareholder base.

“As we continue to grow and position Wyld as a leading virtual satellite network operator for IoT services, we have seen considerable interest in the company from US-based investors. To leverage on this interest and increase visibility and accessibility in the US capital market, we decided to join the OTCQB Market”, said Alastair Williamson, CEO of Wyld Networks. “We are looking forward to the opportunities this will bring to the company, as well as the value we believe it will bring for our shareholders.”
