SELATEK acquires Triator Brand- & Säkerhetsteknik – strengthens its security offering and establishes presence in Växjö

SELATEK continues its growth journey within the security segment by acquiring Triator Brand- & Säkerhetsteknik ("Triator"), a well-established company with a strong local presence in Växjö and operations across southern Sweden. The acquisition represents a strategic enhancement of SELATEK's security offering and marks a geographic expansion into a new region.

Triator has revenues of around SEK 40m and employs approximately 15 people. The company delivers advanced solutions in fire alarms, intrusion alarms, CCTV, telecom and data installations, and access control systems. With a dedicated team and high technical expertise, Triator has earned a solid reputation as a reliable partner in the security sector. The current owners will continue in their operational roles and remain as shareholders in the Group.

"We are delighted to welcome Triator to SELATEK. Security is a prioritized growth area within the Group and Triator brings both specialist expertise and local presence in the Växjö region. The company already collaborates with several of our other subsidiaries, which creates excellent conditions for continued cooperation, growth, and development." says Magnus Löfgren, CEO of SELATEK.

"We are entering a phase where we aim to continue growing and evolving, but recognize that it requires more resources than we can provide on our own. Becoming part of SELATEK gives us the right conditions for continued expansion – both locally and through future new establishments. It offers both stability and new development opportunities for our entire team. Our reinvestment in SELATEK reflects our long-term commitment – we will continue to run Triator in the same spirit, now with even broader possibilities." says Ola Nilsson and Fredrik Peterson, co-owners of Triator.
