

Safestate Group AB (publ): Extends Partnership with Yettel, Deepening Its Position in the Telecom Sector

Bulgaria's largest mobile operator renews and expands its commitment to SafeState's white-label cybersecurity.

SafeState Group AB (publ) is pleased to announce that Yettel, Bulgaria's largest mobile operator by revenue and part of e& PPF Telecom Group, has extended its partnership with SafeState by a further two years.

Under the renewed agreement, Yettel will continue to offer SafeState's identity and dark web monitoring service to its customers on a white-label basis, building on a partnership first launched in 2024.

The extension says a lot. Yettel has made our service available to its customers since 2024, and they've now chosen to commit for the long term, a partner doubling down because the product works.

Daan Donders, CEO of SafeState: "Renewals are the real proof. Yettel has seen what our product does for their customers, and they've decided to extend and build on it. That's exactly the kind of long-term partnership we're scaling across the telecom sector."
